SEA FIGHTS

Add More Woes to the Czar's Failing Fortunes.

The Brave Admiral Witholt Killed and His Fleet Badly Scattered.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Sunday morning's sea fight in the Straits of Korea was between the Vladivostok squadron and Admiral Kamimura's fleet, and resulted in a victory for the Japanese. The Russian armored cruiser Kurik was sunk and two other cruisers escaped to the northward heavily damaged. Reports indicate that the Japanese army around Port Arthur is being heavily re-inforced, and it is said that the Mikado has ordered the capture of Port Arthur even at the cost of suspending operations in the Manchuria campaign. Capt. Matousevitch, who was Witholt's chief of staff, has died of his wounds. The Czarovitch, which is at Tsing-chou, probably will be dismantled, and the Askold, which is at Shanghai, will require ten days' repairs before she is seaworthy. Rains have put a stop temporarily to the Manchurian land operations. Admiral Witholt, in command of the Russian squadron at Port Arthur, was killed in the engagement with the Japanese Wednesday. Admiral Witholt was one of the bravest, most trusted and efficient officers in the Russian navy.

News from the Russian Port Arthur squadron indicate that the vessels became widely scattered after the engagement with the Japanese fleet. The Czarovitch, badly disabled, has reached Tsing-chou at the entrance of Kiao-chou bay. She is accompanied by the Novik and a torpedo boat. The Askold, also badly damaged, has reached Shanghai, and several other vessels are said to be in that vicinity. The official report of Admiral Togo says most of the fleet returned to Port Arthur.

TWO MINUTES

From The Time The Button Was Pressed, Engine Was There.

The Home Telephone Company's automatic fire alarm service, recently adopted by the city for the Fire Department, was given another test Friday night. An alarm was turned in from Fourteenth and Main streets, without previous notice, and in two minutes from the time the button was pressed, the fire company was on the scene ready for business. Every member was notified at the same instant and as he took down the receiver was told the location of the fire, without having to ask a question. It was repeated several times so those reaching the phone a little later could get the information. Several of the firemen arrived in from two to three minutes and all were on hand in a very few minutes. Chief Randle is enthusiastic over the new service. He says no city in the South has one to equal it. The run from the engine house to the location, was nine squares, up and down hills.

THE CITY CLOCK

Was Out of Order When Test Was Made.

The city clock failed to respond to the fire alarm sent in Friday night, as the electric battery supplied by the city was not in working order. It was recharged yesterday and will probably ring the bell next time. The Home Telephone Company is not responsible for the condition of the clock and can only ring the bell when it is in proper order.

Mrs. Florence Maybrick sailed for America Saturday, under an assumed name.

LOST BOY.

James Arthur White Disappeared A Week Ago.

Rode Away on a Bicycle For a Short Ride and Did Not Return.

James Arthur White the fifteen-year-old son of Mr. S. J. S. White, a farmer living five miles from this city on the VanCleve place, mysteriously disappeared from his home Sunday afternoon, August 7, and all efforts to locate him have failed. The boy left home on his bicycle, riding in this direction. The family thought he was merely out for a pleasure ride, as he had on his working clothes and carried no others with him. He had about $3 in his pocket. When he failed to return at night the family became alarmed, and a thorough search was begun at once, which has been continued since but no trace of the boy has been found.

The boy is well-grown for his age, has dark hair and eyes and weighs about 125 pounds. He is alert and quick spoken. He wore dark trousers with raised stripes of blue, white shirt, suspenders with blue on them, and no coat. Hat was purplish felt, stiff brim, small band.

Mr. White says his son had no cause to leave home and had made no threats to do so. His duties were light and he seemed well contented.

Rose Wilson, a negro man living at E. B. Winfree's, told Mr. White he saw the boy in town at the I. C. depot Monday and tried to trade wheels with him and that he went out North Main to Mack Witty's. Investigation showed that he had not been to Mr. Witty's and no spot could be found that the boy was in town. Yesterday Mr. White had the negro taken into custody and is trying to get some further information out of him.

His mother is prostrated with grief and anxiety and absolutely nothing can be learned to solve the mystery of the boy's disappearance. His father suspects foul play and is using every means at his command to find his son. All of his relatives at Macedonia, from which the family came last January, and other places, have been communicated with, but no tidings had been received up to yesterday afternoon.

Mr. White will pay a reward for information. He can be reached by Cumberland phone 261-3.

A PICKLED CORPSE.

Parents Keep the Body of Their Son, so That They May Look Upon His Face.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Aug. 12.—Kenneth Mooring, of Algeria, whose seven-year-old son Isaac died in Parkersburg two months ago from eating poisoned ice cream, has had the boy's body placed in a glass casket filled with alcohol. The latter has preserved the body, while the glass casket enables the parents to see the features of their son at any time.

The casket is in a mausoleum and the parents say the body will always be kept as it is now so that they can at any time behold the face of their son.

GRANGERS RESOLUTE

Against the L. & N.'s Action in Discontinuing Cumberland Phone.

Church Hill Grange adopted a resolution Friday requesting the Superintendent of this Division of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad to replace the Cumberland telephone, recently ordered out of the depot in Hopkinsville. The local agent, Mr. J. C. Hooe, says the Cumberland service was discontinued upon Superintendent Jno. W. Logsdon's order, after Mr. Logsdon had personally investigated the character of service given and was satisfied himself that it was inferior for the transaction of business.

Mr. Hooe further states that when he complained of the poor service, he was told that he could take the phones out if he was not satisfied with them.

NICK HAS A SON.

Czar of Russia Rejoicing Over Male Heir.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 12.—A son and heir to the Russian throne has been born. The Empress and the child are doing well. The accouchement occurred at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The Emperor and Empress of Russia (formerly Princess Alix of Hesse) who were married November 14, 1894, had previous to the birth of the child born today, four daughters. In receiving the congratulations of his court the Emperor, in a brief reply, said:

"I am happier at the birth of a son heir than at a victory of my troops, for now I face the future calmly and without alarm, knowing by this sign that the war will be brought to a happy conclusion."

Total Japanese Casualties

Washington, Aug. 12.—The Japanese Legation has received a revised list of casualties on the Japanese side from the battle of Ching-ju, Mar. 28, up to and including the battle of Yangtze Ling, Aug. 1, showing the total estimated casualties to be 12,055. The largest loss resulted from the battles of Sin-chou and Nanshan, when thirty-eight officers and 716 men were killed, and 2,455 men wounded. The next largest loss was suffered in the battle of Telasu, June 15, when the total casualties were 1,173, including seven officers killed and forty-three officers wounded.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly tinkering with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. It cures one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

The State Central Committee in its meeting Saturday, by a vote of 5 to 4, sustained the nomination of Jaa. E. Cantrell for appellate judge. The ayes were Whittemore, Board, Combs, Addams and Hargis; the noes, Lassing, McCutcheon, Miller and Garnett. Three members were absent. In the Eleventh judicial district, where the district committee tied, two and two, on the question of a primary or convention, the committee recommended that a primary election be called. The State Central Committee adopted a resolution authorizing its own members to take part in calling conventions and primaries and decide such questions as the district committees in the respective districts are unable to agree upon. This is clearly beyond the authority of that branch of the party organization. The district members of the State Executive Committee have control of these matters, such duties being about all they have to do, and if the State Central Committee relieves them of their only duties, their positions will be purely honorary and might as well be abolished.

A story comes from Morristown, N. J., that a man named Abbott Parker, who was struck by lightning has a picture of the crucifixion outlined on his back. While suffering from the stroke, he was taken into a convent and placed upon a bed over which there was a picture of the crucifixion. The picture on the man's skin was not tattooed and his intimate friends say it was not there previous to the shock sustained. Scientists can find no explanation for the mystery.

PROJECT THE FISH Says Mr. Hinton of Tennessee Central Railroad.

Traffic Manager E. H. Hinton, of the T. C. Road, is taking an active interest in the enforcement of the fish laws along his route. He has addressed a circular letter to Tennessee editors as follows:

Information has reached me that some of the streams in the State of Tennessee, fish are being caught with nets and killed with dynamite, and are being hauled away in large quantities. If this practice is allowed to continue, it will be but a short time before the fish will disappear from our streams almost altogether.

I am of the opinion that fish laws should be passed by the Legislature to prevent the wanton destruction of fish in this manner, and that these laws should provide for a warden system to make them effective. Without this system they will become impotent. This is the experience in other States.

I understand from Mr. Acklen, State Game Warden, that our present Game Law is not only popular but effective, and it is because we have an efficient warden system to enforce its provisions. We need a similar Fish Law, which I believe cannot fail to become equally as popular as the Game Law, and this Fish Law when passed, should be put under the Warden System and will enable us in a few years to replenish our streams with fish which otherwise soon become barren of fish.

I bring this to your attention to ask that you agitate the question through the columns of your paper with a view of having proper fish laws passed. The subject is one which should be agitated on all occasions. I have not the slightest doubt but that such a law would become very popular.

Will you not aid us in the manner suggested in accomplishing this end? We went to considerable trouble a short time since to induce the Government to stock some of the streams on the east end of our line with Rainbow trout, but these young fish are suffering from causes mentioned above, and will doubtless be exterminated unless some action is taken.

Yours truly,
E. H. HINTON,
Traffic Manager.

LIKES PARKER. Our Washington Correspondent Says he is Sure Enough Man.

Special Correspondence of the KENTUCKIAN.
Washington, D. C., August 12.—It may be interesting to the readers of this correspondence to know that the reason they have not heard from me for the past week is because I have been away and in the interest of the Democratic party, and incidentally in their own interest. I believed it was to their own interest and to the interest of every Democrat in the country to have a correct pen picture of Judge Alton Brooks Parker, my candidate and their candidate for President of the United States. I have been writing and you have been reading these letters for nearly two years now, and I feel that all the readers of these letters feel and know that the Democracy is on straight. They may have, and many no doubt did, disagree with me concerning my personal preferences before the nominations were made at St. Louis, but there is no disagreement among real Democrats after the nomination has been made and we have lined up for the fight against the common enemy. There should be no disagreement among Democrats when the fact is staring them in the face that their liberty is being raped, their patrimony is being stolen from them, the very bread is being taken from them by the rapacious trusts of the country, as well as their meat, that they are adrift on the unknown sea of colonialism which is foreign to the letter and spirit of the Constitution of the country; that the lust of loot and the greed of graft has permeated and honeycombed every department of the national government until it reeks with rottenness of honest administration.

It is up to the people to stop this riot of rapacity or allow their grand republic and the greatest government ever established by man since the time of time began, to fall to pieces, to disintegrate of its own rottenness because owned and controlled by the predatory wealth of the country, which also owns and controls the Republican party, its agent. The only way the people can do this is to defeat the Republican party in the campaign just now opening up, and the only way to defeat the Republican party is to vote the straight Democratic ticket from top to bottom. I appeal to the Republican voters of the country who are honest men, regardless of their past political affiliations, to the great and independent voter who votes his conscience and his honest convictions, and to the good old straight Democrat who votes his ticket after the nomination has been made, no matter how sorely disappointed he may have been at the result. No man, however, has the right to be disappointed at the result. As every man knows who has read this correspondence for the past year and a half, I did not support Judge Parker for the nomination. I, as a man who did not support him in his nomination, I rejoice now in his nomination and honestly believe that it was the solution of the problem of getting together the warring factions of the Democratic party, other men who are similarly minded can do the same thing with the greatest good grace in the world. I say to the Democrats of the country and the people in general that the Democracy of the nation in convention assembled, has been made no mistake in the nomination of Judge Alton B. Parker for the presidency of the country. This is the verdict of every leading Democrat in the entire nation who has had the pleasure and the privilege of meeting Judge Parker and of taking him by the hand. I have had that pleasure and that privilege, and it is of that I desire to say a few words concerning the Democratic standard bearer in this campaign to my readers.

During the meeting of the national committee in New York City, through the kindness and the courtesy of the Hon. Stephen E. Mack, national committeeman from New York, I was invited to accompany the members of the national committee to the home of Judge Parker to pay him our sincere respects and give him assurances of our loyalty and esteem. I went, I saw, I was conquered, I am his.

If you have warm, red corpuscles in your blood, he is the kind of man who would make you get out and holler out loud for, and get rid in the face, and walk on a rotten rail to serve in a campaign against corruption and greed and graft and usurpation and skull duggery and militarism. Judge Parker is the antithesis of all these things that militate against decency and genuine good and safe constitutional government. In a word, Judge Parker is a sure enough man.

Did you ever study men? Then go up and meet Judge Parker, and you will understand my enthusiasm for our candidate for the Presidency. He loves nature and he loves the smell of new mown hay, and of mother earth and of the breezes that come to him uncontaminated by the touch of anything but nature in all her purity. He loves horses and he loves children. That's why he is a real man; that's why he grasps your hand in a hearty shake; that's why he can laugh out loud, and that's why he can look you squarely in the eye when he is doing it. Judge Parker is over six feet in height, broad shouldered, deep chested and athletic. He is at the very zenith of his physical and intellectual powers, a man devoted to clean constitutional government, economically administered in the interest of the whole people, and that's why he makes an ideal candidate of the Democratic party for the Presidency of the United States, and that's why he would make an ideal President of the same. Judge Parker is one of the few men you meet with sun-kissed hair and mustache and big expressive brown eyes with a merry twinkle in them. He possesses a keen sense of the ludicrous, loves a joke and can laugh at it and, therefore, does not make the mistake of taking himself too seriously. Every member of the national committee who that day enjoyed the hospitality of Hon. Norman E. Mack and who met Judge Parker, was impressed with him exactly as I was, and every one of them sent home singing his praises and was his personal friend and well-wisher as well as his sworn political partisan.

He is going to be elected and the people of the country will have in the white house a deep student, a great constitutional lawyer, a man who loves the people and who knows their needs, and, best of all, a generous, many man.—Chas. A. Edwards.

DIES ON EVE OF MARRIAGE.

So Says the Madisonville Hustler of Miss Edith Waller.

Miss Edith Waller, formerly of Madisonville, died at her home in Hopkinsville Sunday morning from typhoid fever. She was to have been married next month.

Miss Waller was the daughter of the late Wm. L. Waller, who died in this city. She was well known here and had a large number of friends who will mourn her sad taking away. Besides her mother, she leaves two brothers, John, who lives in St. Petersburg, Fla., and Will, who lives with his mother in Hopkinsville.

The deceased was engaged to marry Rev. F. W. Thompson, of St. Petersburg, Fla., next month. Her death thus made doubly sad. She was a member of the Baptist church, and a young lady of a most admirable christian character.—Madisonville Hustler.

The State College of Kentucky,

LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY.

The Agricultural and Mechanical State College of Kentucky offers the following courses of study: The Agricultural, horticultural, chemical, biological, mathematical, physical natural science, classical, mechanical engineering, electrical engineering, civil engineering, mining engineering, each of which extends over four years and leads to a degree. Each course of study is completed under faculty general. The faculty number nearly fifty professors and instructors. County apprentices receive tuition, room, board, and laundry, free of charge, and if they remain traveling expenses.

The laboratories and museums are large, well equipped, comprehensive and modern.

The legislature appropriated $20,000 for a college home for young women, and $20,000 for drill hall and gymnasium for men. Both buildings are completed and in use. Military tactics and science are taught provided as required by congress.

Graduates from the several courses of study readily find excellent positions and liberal remuneration. The demand is largely in excess of the ability of the college to supply. Last year the matriculation was 750.

Specialists with the necessary number of assistants have charge of each department of natural science.

Summer schools are provided for pedagogy, engineering, and instruction in science.

The State College of Kentucky, though bearing the title of "college" is the only institution in the Commonwealth doing in any proper sense university work.

The completion of the college home for young women broadens facilities for good board and lodging. It is equipped with all modern conveniences, including bath rooms and rooms for physical culture. It is heated by steam and lighted by electricity.

An opportunity is thus afforded to them a thorough education in classics, modern languages, literature, science, mathematics, logic, metaphysics, history and political economy. No other institution in the State offers advantages for education of women at all comparable to those offered by the State College of Kentucky.

Kentucky Couple Flattered in Tennessee, Thanks to an Accommodation Acquaintance.

Clarksville, Tenn., Aug. 12.—Henry Holeman, who is a young farmer from Cerulean Springs, Ky., and Miss Maude, the very pretty daughter of P. J. Gardner, of the same vicinity, were married here, and the affair, besides being an elopement, was attended by some romantic incidents as well. The couple had been loving each other for some time, so the story goes, but there were parental objections to their marriage. Wednesday night, however, the two were at church together, and after the service said they would walk to the hotel and have a drink of water. They had other plans, however, for they took a train for Hopkinsville, intending to get married there. Disappointment awaited them, however, for a license was refused.

The lovers took a buggy and started overland for Clarksville, reaching this city early yesterday morning. Here they were at first refused a license, as the girl did not appear to be more than fifteen years of age. An acquaintance of the young woman was found, and he certified to the fact that she would be bride at over eighteen, and then the license was issued and the two made one by "Squire Wilcox.

BRAVE WOMAN

Proves More Than a Match For a Thief.

Holds Him Up at the Fuzzle of a Gun Until He Restores Stolen Property.

Mrs. Foster B. McCown, of North Christian, near Kirkmansville, had an exciting experience with a sneak thief Sunday. Her husband was away and she was at home alone with her little ten year old son, Hubert. They left the house for a short while to go to the melon patch near by, closing the doors and windows. When they returned a ring window was seen to be up and Mrs. McCown, suspecting a thief was in the house, went through a rear room and got a small 22 calibre rifle, with which she went into the front room and confronted the thief, who was a white man. He attempted to escape with a suit of Mr. McCown's clothes under his arm, but Mrs. McCown pointed the gun at him and ordered him to put down the clothes. This he hastened to do, begging her not to shoot. The little boy stood by his mother with a hatchet, saying "Shoot him, mama, and I'll cut off his head." Missing her husband's pistol from the mantel-piece, she ordered the man to take it from his pocket and hand it to her handle first, which he reluctantly did. She then made him turn his pockets to see that he had nothing belonging to her. When ordered to depart by the front door, the man said he had left a grip in the garden. She sent the child for the grip and after examining it to see that it was not filled with her property, she gave it to him and drove him out at the muzzle of the rifle. The man had been seen about the neighborhood and is known, but has not been arrested. Mrs. McCown is being complimented on her bravery and presence of mind under circumstances that would have filled most women with terror.

The Delineator for September.

To those who follow the movements of fashion, The Delineator for September is an exceptionally interesting number, containing advance information upon the end of the year styles, and illustrating in colors and in black and white some of the latest developments of the season's modes. Not less attractive is the literary section, in which the first place is given to a timely article on "The Women of Russia," by Wolf von Schierbrand. Rebecca Williams is the subject of an interesting biographical sketch in the "Pioneer Women" series, and the delightful series of pictures and letters of travel is brought to an end. Dr. Grace Peckham Murray writes on "Bodily Symmetry," Lillie Hamilton French has another of the enjoyable "Joy of Living" papers and there are well-illustrated short stories by Alden Arthur Koipe, Albert Bigelow Paine and Francis Lynde. For the young folks are stories and pastimes of an entertaining and helpful character, including the continuation of the "Little Garden Calendar" and further adventures of "Little Tommy Postoffice," as well as an instructive paper by Lina Beard on the homes and domestic arts of the Philippines. The interest of the home are treated thoroughly and practically in the various departments, which are in charge of experts.

Young Couple Elopes.

Miss Jennie Young and Whit Smith of Earlington, eloped to Springfield Wednesday and were married. They returned home in the evening. The groom is an industrious young man and in the employ of the St. Bernard and the bride is one of the popular young ladies of Earlington. Hush!

Rear Admiral Witholt, who had been in command of the Russian squadron at Port Arthur since the death of Admiral Makaroff, was killed by a shell which struck the Czarevitch in the attempt to leave Port Arthur August 10. He was standing on the bridge encouraging his men on the flagship in the dash for liberty. Only a part of the fleet escaped. The flagship reached Kiaschoau, neutral port, in a disabled condition.

BEGIN NOW

To Be In Time For the Next Tobacco Crop.

A friend of many years told me a story. In thinking of a smile, for it is oft recurring that the patient, plodding methods of the tobacco grower should be compared with the boldness, dash and "get there" organizers of the tobacco combine. The story was of a man who said he never stood up when he could sit down, and never did anything today that he could possibly put off until tomorrow.

This would be an insult if applied to many a good tobacco man, notwithstanding it has an element of truth.

To fully appreciate it as applied to all men, one must be an analyst who not only sees the hard truth, but who has a keen sense of the ridiculous. This planter is a man endowed with a fair proportion of the sterling qualities which go to make up manhood, but apparently ignorant of his environments and profound thoughtlessness of the possibility of his opportunities. The agriculturalist provides the food and raiment of the world. Every tobacco grower is a general agriculturist. He outnumbers any other class of citizens and pays more taxes. What a volume this speaks to the man who ever allows himself to think.

It is not a question of courting thought or of serious research. It is simply a matter for an agriculturist to take up as he would the proper feeding of stock or the proper weighing of any product. It is a fallacy that planters cannot organize. They can, with terrible certainty and effect, but unfortunately for them their great conservatism makes them slower in doing so than any other class of men.

They are men who wait until their own detriment, for some one else to take the initiative, and that some one else is often, from a financial standpoint, a competitor.

The planter of tobacco must learn of a very aggressive man, who represents the tobacco combine. A man who never lies down when he can sit up; never sits down when he can stand up, and is never idle when there is a possibility of a combine. A man who would scorn a lie as the devil does the truth, but who is looking solely and singly to the interest he represents.

Surely the tobacco planter can read the handwriting on the wall.

They should not wait for another sale season to roll around, but, instead, begin an intelligent organization to get a fair price for their product. CACTUS.

Cotton in Italy.

The cotton industry of Italy increases in importance, and is distributed among 730 factories, employing more than 135,000 hands. More than half the factories are operated by steam, the remainder by electricity and hydraulic power. Out of 30,000 looms employed 30,000 are mechanical.

Champion of Women.

"Of all the movements in the country since I was an undergraduate," said John Morley, at Oxford the other day, "that which has raised women in all the chances of life to something like equality with men strikes me as the most important and the most far-reaching."

To Blacken Brown Boots. Get five cents' worth of spirits of turpentine, and with it take all the polish off the boots. Let them dry, and then give them a good dressing of lard. Leave them some hours and polish in the usual manner with any good blacking.—Washington Star.

Cook's Carrying Capacity. "You are having trouble with your cooks?"

"Yes. The first one carried on so." "And how about the last?" "She carried off so. I lost two vests and a hat."—Philadelphia Record.

Probably Misunderstood. A Philadelphia man whose grafted nose has given him notoriety has received hundreds of proposals of marriage. Perhaps the senders of the missives are misunderstood, perhaps they read he had a nose for graft.

Modern Ending. "And so," concluded the fond father, "they were married."

"Oh, yes, I know," interrupted the daughter and heiress, "and got a divorce and lived happily ever after!"—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Vast Energy in Coal. A chunk of coal releases, during combustion, enough energy to lift itself about 3,000 miles, away from New York to Panama, vertically upward against constant sea level gravitation.

INCOME OF CRACK JOCKEY.

Big Salaries and Fees Paid the Little Riders of Running Horses.

For the past two years George Odum, the leading jockey of America, has been under contract to Capt. S. S. Brown, the Pittsburgh millionaire, who pays him an annual retainer of $15,000, says Everybody's Magazine. Then he sells what is known on the turf as "second call" to John Madden for an amount approaching half of the first contract price. When the latter owner is starting a horse Odum has the privilege of accepting outside mounts. From this source a rider of his skill accumulates as much money as he receives from regular contracts. In gifts and prizes in special races he receives an additional amount. Odum cannot give the exact figures of his income this season until, at the end of the year, he has summed up his outside amounts and peripherals. Safely, he may count on $30,000 as the figures which he may credit for one year of wearing the silks and satins and riding American race horses to splendid and, sometimes, unexpected, victory. The figures will startle you, and at first you will be much inclined to wonder.

Then, as you look at the attenuated figure and the old, old face, and note the heaviness of his speech and the sometimes pathetic of his voice, then it is thrust in upon you after all, that it is hardly worth while, and that George Odum, the jockey, earning more each year than directors of great human events, is underpaid. The reward doesn't seem to be commensurate with the labor. There is brilliancy, ardor, praise, in extravagance, syrenphonic following—all of that for the little old man who rides. But he has lost so much, and life for him in his active moments has been such a curbing, racking life, that he has paid a great price for the pride of his place. George Odum the jockey, is, at times, a pitiable figure.

THE FLY AS A BAROMETER.

Insect Clinging to Raw Meat Indicates the Coming of Wet Weather.

"The day, isn't it?" I remarked, as I bade a friend good morning recently in the market house, where he conducts a meat stand, says a writer in the Pittsburgh Dispatch.

"No," he replied, "but it is certain to rain before the day is over."

Asked how he could be so confident when the sky was apparently clear and the sun shining brightly, he called my attention to the flies.

"You see them clinging to the meat?" he explained. "Well, in any weather the electric force serves to keep the flies away from the meat, but the instant the atmosphere becomes affected by an approaching shower these insects begin to stick to the meat so tightly that it is almost absolutely impossible to drive them off. Our fans are made to revolve at full speed, and in addition we resort to fly brushes; but even with all these precautions, some of the little winged pests cling to the beef with a tenacity that is astounding. When this occurs we know that it will rain, and it never fails. Just watch and see if it is not correct. The fly is the best barometer in all the world."

THE JUDGE RUBBED IT IN.

Assured the Prisoner at the Bar of Acquaintance with Prisoner's Interior.

Ex-Secretary Elihu Root was talking about the humanity of judges, relates the New York Tribune.

"They are humane men," he said, "I could tell you many moving stories at the pain that they have suffered in the infliction of severe sentences. It is not altogether pleasant to be a judge."

"That is why I cannot credit a story that was told me the other day about a judge in the west. A criminal, on trial before this man, had been found guilty. He was told to rise, and the judge said to him:

"Have you ever been sentenced to imprisonment before?"

"No, your honor," said the criminal, and he burst into tears.

"Well," said the judge, "don't cry. You're going to be now."

IN ROYAL STYLE.

Gracey Hunting Club Entertain Their Friends.

The Gracey Hunting Club gave a stag barbecue to a number of their friends last Friday in the beautiful grove near the home of Lee Watkins, two miles east of Gracey. The Gracey Club is an organization of gentlemen who enjoy life, and who take great delight in having their friends meet once a year with them and to say that this was the equal of any in genuine pleasure and hospitable enjoyment is fully attested by everyone present. Bob Baker superintended the preparation of the dinner, which is sufficient guarantee that it was done to a queen's taste; and in the entertainment of the guests in other ways and in serving the dinner, Pat Watson, Gip Watkins, Jack Wall, John Reed, and Lee Watkins proved themselves past masters.

Including the members of the club, following is a list of those present: Capt. J. R. Caudle, Julien; Capt. John J. Reed, Hopkinsville; Capt. J. P. Watson and J. R. Gaines, Montgomery; R. H. ## Obituary.

On Sunday morning, Aug. 7th, Edith Waller, only daughter of Mrs. Kate Dagg Waller, "fell asleep in Jesus." As the sun was setting the following evening after brief but tender services at the Baptist church, the beautiful casket from which the pure spirit had fled was laid to rest by the loved father, under a mound covered by beautiful flowers, to sleep till the resurrection morn.

Like the fragrant lily of the valley, hiding its spotless beauty amidst its green leaves, her young life had blossomed into modest purity and lowliness amidst those who loved brightening the pathway of all who knew her, and just past the dawn of young womanhood she closed her eyes to all the gladness of life, to all the beauty that life held out to her, only to open them to the glories of that "Heavenly country," whither so many of her loved ones have already gone; another trophy at the feet of the blessed Saviour who had redeemed her and who called her to join the loved ones there in adding to the attractions of the Heavenly Mansions being prepared for the loved ones still to follow.

She was a grand daughter of Rev. John F. Dagg and she seemed to have inherited that gentle, unobtrusive, unselfish spirit, enhanced by the spirit of Christ, which had characterized him and his illustrious father.

Although the many agonizing prayers for her recovery rose seemingly unanswered and faith is almost staggered under the oft-repeated sorrows of bereavement, the heart in its grief grasps eagerly at the assurance that "Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear Him," and a ray of comfort struggles through the darkness in the thought that he looks down in pitying love on the crushing grief of the devoted mother and sorrowing brothers and says tenderly, "What I do thou knowest not now, but thou shalt know hereafter."

God knows the way. He holds the key, He guides us with unerring hand. Sometime with tearless eyes we'll see, and then, up there we'll understand.

CLARK'S FIGURES.

Says Parker and Davis Will Win By 14 Majority.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Parker and Davis are going to win, declared Representative Champ Clark of Missouri, who was permanent chairman of the Democratic National Convention, when asked for an analysis of the political situation. Mr. Clark has just returned from a tour of the Middle West.

While 29 electoral votes only are necessary for choice, Representative Clark claims at least 253 as reasonably certain for Parker and Davis, and says there are forty-six debatable votes that the Democrats have an even chance of capturing.

The States which Mr. Clark thinks will go Democratic are: The solid South, 151; New York, 39; New Jersey, 12; Maryland, 8; West Virginia, 7; Connecticut, 7; Delaware, 3; Indiana, 15; Colorado, 5; Montana, 3; Nevada, 3. Total, 253.

There are four debatable States for which both sides will fight and from which Mr. Clark thinks Parker and Davis will receive many more electoral votes. Those States are: Wisconsin, 13; Illinois, 27; Idaho, 3; Utah, 3. Total, 46.

Big Snake Eggs.

Tullahoma, Tenn., Aug. 9.—The biggest snake eggs ever discovered in this section were unearthed on the farm of Robert M. Reynolds. There were seven of them all linked together, each being about the size of a goose egg. Squire Reynolds broke one and it was found to contain a well-developed snake. The eggs are supposed to be the deposit of a chicken snake, and were found about 18 inches below the surface of the ground. A young stick timber snakeologist has placed one of the eggs in an incubator to hatch, and the result will be awaited with much interest by the "snake liar" of the coming fall season.

Crazed by the death of her husband, Mrs. W. H. McCargo, of Olive Branch, Miss., committed suicide by burning.

Clark's Figures.

Says Parker and Davis Will Win By 14 Majority.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Parker and Davis are going to win, declared Representative Champ Clark of Missouri, who was permanent chairman of the Democratic National Convention, when asked for an analysis of the political situation. Mr. Clark has just returned from a tour of the Middle West.

FEMALE TRAMP

Killed in a Wreck at Spottsville, Kentucky.

Henderson, Ky., Aug. 9.—Quite a sensation was sprung here by the report that one of the three bodies taken from the Spottsville disaster was that of a woman and that she was the fireman on the ill-fated engine. A woman's body was taken from the river under the debris.

The body of the woman was examined by Dr. James H. Leitch, surgeon for the L. H. and St. L. railway, and upon his authority the statement that the body is that of a female, is made. Dr. Leitch also certified to scars and marks that were found on her body. The woman was undoubtedly that of a tramp and was beating her way on the train. She probably jumped when she found the train was going down. There were no marks on her body except old scars, which indicate that she died from drowning. A minute description of the unknown woman is as follows:

Body that of a well developed woman, probably thirty-five years of age, about five feet five inches in height and weighing about 145 pounds. She had large lips, a pug nose and a spreading scar upon her forehead presumably caused by a burn. She wore men's clothing, a pair of painter's overalls with hardened paint stains, a suit of underwear, in the leg of which were found safely tied, four silver dollars. An overall shirt and jacket and a pair of shoes completed the list of her garments. The shoes were worn four and a half in size, heavily soiled.

Upon examination of the remains of the umbrella mender, another victim, a bunch of the woman's hair, a foot and a half long, was found on his inside pocket, which evidences the fact that they were traveling in company.

The remains of Walter Reidel, the engineer who was drowned, were buried at Cloverport.

Carl Lisben, a brother of Wallace Lisben, the fireman, who also lost his life in the wreck, went to Spottsville to assist in the search for his brother's body. Wallace Lisben was twenty-two years old and was reared in Cloverport.

CLARK'S FIGURES.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Parker and Davis are going to win, declared Representative Champ Clark of Missouri, who was permanent chairman of the Democratic National Convention, when asked for an analysis of the political situation. Mr. Clark has just returned from a tour of the Middle West.

While 29 electoral votes only are necessary for choice, Representative Clark claims at least 253 as reasonably certain for Parker and Davis, and says there are forty-six debatable votes that the Democrats have an even chance of capturing.

The States which Mr. Clark thinks will go Democratic are: The solid South, 151; New York, 39; New Jersey, 12; Maryland, 8; West Virginia, 7; Connecticut, 7; Delaware, 3; Indiana, 15; Colorado, 5; Montana, 3; Nevada, 3. Total, 253.

There are four debatable States for which both sides will fight and from which Mr. Clark thinks Parker and Davis will receive many more electoral votes. Those States are: Wisconsin, 13; Illinois, 27; Idaho, 3; Utah, 3. Total, 46.

Big Snake Eggs.

Tullahoma, Tenn., Aug. 9.—The biggest snake eggs ever discovered in this section were unearthed on the farm of Robert M. Reynolds. There were seven of them all linked together, each being about the size of a goose egg. Squire Reynolds broke one and it was found to contain a well-developed snake. The eggs are supposed to be the deposit of a chicken snake, and were found about 18 inches below the surface of the ground. A young stick timber snakeologist has placed one of the eggs in an incubator to hatch, and the result will be awaited with much interest by the "snake liar" of the coming fall season.

The Sturdy Baby

Is a delight to the mother. She loves to watch his sports in which she is too weak to join, and she glories in his strength, although the price of it is her own weakness. There would be fewer weak and invalid mothers if women would only realize the value of proper preparation for maternity.

Thousands of mothers who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in anticipation of the baby's coming state that it gave great physical ease and comfort during the period of waiting, and made the baby's advent practically painless. "Favorite Prescription" gives the mother strength to give her child.

"I will endeavor to tell you of the many benefits I have derived from taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. B. E. Robertson, of Medicine Lodge, Barber Co., Kans. "In the fall of 1899 I was expecting to become a mother and suffered terribly with pain in the back of head; in fact I ached all over. Suffered with awful bearing-down pains. I was threatened for weeks with miscarriage. A lady friend told me to use Dr. Pierce's medicine. She had taken them and felt like a new woman. I began using the 'Favorite Prescription' and took four bottles before my baby came and two afterwards. I suffered almost death with my other two children, but hardly realized that I was sick when this baby was born, and she weighed twelve and one-quarter pounds. She is now eleven months old and has never known an hour's sickness; at present she weighs thirty-seven pounds. I owe it all to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

HENDERSON EASY

For the Browns in Games Saturday and Sunday.

No Games Here Until Next Monday, When Clarksville Comes.

Hopkinsville played the third game with Henderson on the Henderson diamond yesterday and expected to make it three straight. The Browns will go to Cairo today and return home Monday to play six games with Clarksville, three here and three at Clarksville.

Friday's Games.

The third of the series with Paducah on the local diamond, was an easy victory for Paducah by a score of 4 to 1. Hopkinsville narrowly escaped a shut-out. In the last inning Meyers made a two-base hit and scored on a fly of Alexander to the right field, which was not handled. Freeman and Land for Paducah and Pettifer and Ketter for Hopkinsville, were the batter. Paducah made 8 hits and 2 errors and Hopkinsville 6 hits and one error. The Browns failed to hit Freeman and he fanned out the best batters two or three times when bases were full. On the other hand the Paducah hits were bunched so they counted. Pettifer pitched a good game and Ketter handled the balls in good shape behind the bat.

At Henderson the local team defeated Cairo by a score of 8 to 5.

At Vincennes, Clarksville shut out Vincennes 3 to 0.

Saturday's Games.

Hopkinsville went to Henderson Saturday and beat Henderson 3 to 2 in a hotly contested game of 14 innings. Crotty went with the Browns and seemed to have given them a squarer deal than he did in the game here Friday, when he gave some very rank decisions to Paducah. Henderson made 9 hits and 4 errors. Hopkinsville 10 hits and 1 error. Alexander pitched and Ketter was catcher. Bryant and Lyons were Henderson's battery.

At Paducah, Clarksville beat Paducah 2 to 1. At Vincennes, Cairo won 10 to 4 over Vincennes.

Sunday's Games.

At Henderson the Browns took the second game by 11 to 1. Pettifer pitched this game.

At Vincennes, the tallenders again beat the champions 9 to 3. At Clarksville, Paducah beat Clarksville 7 to 2.

He is one of the best all round players in the league, good anywhere he is put.

Pettifer and Morgan were pitted against each other at Henderson yesterday.

The Browns came home last night and left for Cairo this morning. They will be at Paducah Friday, Saturday and Sunday and be here next Monday.
